"CONNECTING PEOPLE TO BUILD CAPACITIES THROUGH E-LEARNING"

TRAINING DELIVERY THROUGH E-LEARNING

With the world going digital, RMI is no longer sticking to traditional face to face training programs to be delivered in classrooms. In fact, learners today may want freedom to choose the mode of training, the time, and the place to do the training. Going digital is the only way RMI can meet the demands of the modern nomadic learner, who wants fast, personalised, bite-sized information, wherever they are. As a public training and research institution, RMI has strived to enhance efficiency and effectiveness in service delivery systems and processes through IT-Supported capacity building, embracing both supply and demand sides.

WHY E-LEARNING

There are key benefits that E-learning has contributed to the learning ecosystem by:

Fostering learner's preference
Timely delivery
Allowing setting own training pace,
Avoiding unnecessary travels
Lowering costs
